Senator Farr Seeks Grant Of Bay To Carmel

"Any development or sanction of development of Carmel Bay would lead to a bloody insurrection," predicts State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel in a letter to Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson. To prevent any possibility of such a situation, Senator Farr asks the lieutenant governor, as a member of the State Lands Commission, to explore the possibility of granting the waters of the bay to the city. Senator Farr's letter says:

Dear Lt. Gov. Anderson:

The City Council of Carmel has taken note recently of the annexation of bay waters by local Monterey Peninsula cities. Carmel would like me to take action to

Sanitary District Tax Down One Cent, New Director Named

The Carmel Sanitary District tax will be 29 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the 1966-67 fiscal year. This rate is one cent less than last year. The tax was set at the August 23 meeting of sanitary district's board of directors.

At the same meeting, a public hearing was held on the annexation of Hacienda Carmel to the district. No written or oral protests were received. A group from the retirement community in Lower Carmel Valley spoke in favor of the annexation of their property. Directors approved the annexation and forwarded Hacienda Carmel's annexation petition to the county's local agencies formation commission for approval.

Also at the August 23 meeting, J. Wentworth Lewis was named by present directors to fill the vacancy on the board which will be created on September 13 when the term of J. O. Handley expires. Mr. Handley declined another term. James B. Pruitt, who signified willingness to serve again, was automatically reelected to another four-year term as no other candidates

Carmel residents are proud of their beach, unsullied by commercial development, but it wasn't until 1929 that it acquired this admirable status.

"Another landmark, familiar in its ugliness, was doomed to extermination," says the Pine Cone report of the city council's decision, to remove the municipal bath house at the foot of Ocean Avenue 37 years ago.

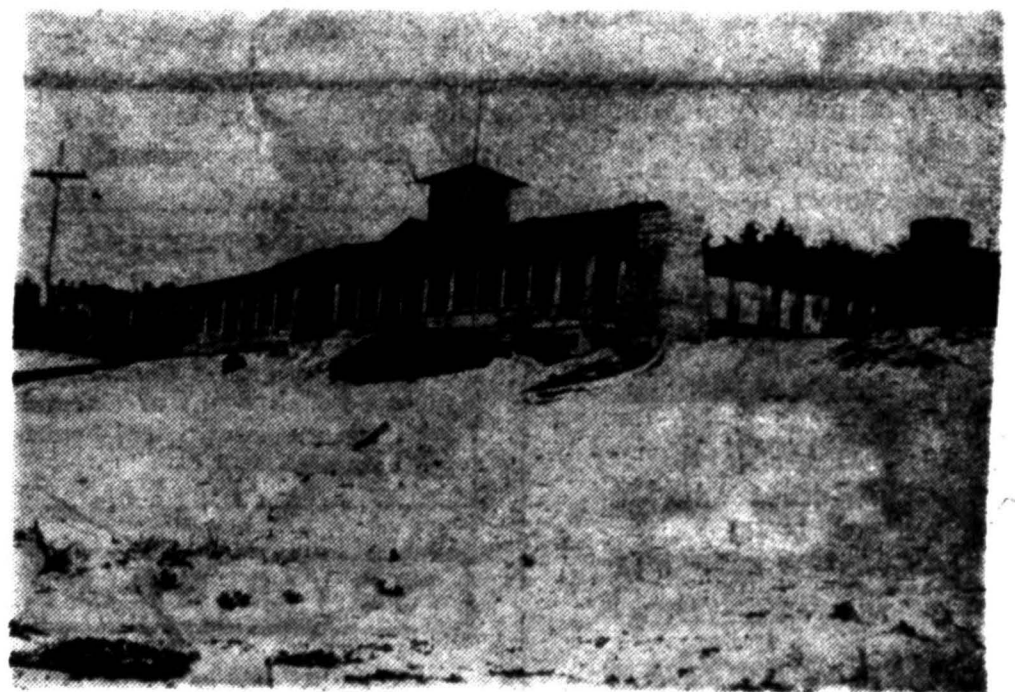

A relic of the Gay Nineties era, the bath house was built by Delos F. Goldsmith, brother of Mrs. Abbie Hunter who was associated with the Women's Investment Company, the first developers of Carmel property starting in 1886.

The bath house was built in the dunes at the foot of Ocean Avenue, then in private ownership. Bathing suits were rented; candy, sandwiches and coffee were sold; and a victrola played records in the facility to which a large glassed-in porch was added some years after its construction.

It was a favorite place for children's parties and teenage social gatherings. Adults relaxed in the warmth of the long porch while they watched the moods of the ocean. It was a snug refuge when the fog rolled in. In fact, it was considered part of the unique character of Carmel for over three decades.

In 1921, Carmel citizens went to the polls and approved a $15,000 bond issue to buy the ten acres of dunes at the foot of Ocean Avenue. By deed of gift from the Carmel Development Company, second developers of Carmel property, other waterfront land, including the site of the bath house, was acquired by the city at the same time, also Devendorf Plaza.

The City of Carmel owned the bath house and leased it as a concession until 1929. In January of that year, the city council was faced with the future of the "shanty" after the current lease expired in June.

BUT NOT IN THE OLD DAYS

Councilman Perry Newberry wanted no commercial development on the beach. Mayor Ross Bonham pointed out that a rope, extending from the bath house into the ocean, for the convenience of swimmers and bathers, constituted a life saving device, thus making the city liable if anyone drowned. Repairs were needed on the deteriorated building which brought the city an annual income of only $100.

Consequently, in April, 1929, the council decided to offer the bath house for sale with the condition that it be torn down by the buyer.

Ticket Deadline For Valley Costume Ball

Carmel Valley Fiesta de Los Amigos committee announces that all reservations for the Spanish costume ball, El Baile Escondido, must be in by September 12. The ball will climax the day-long fiesta and will be held at Holman's Guest Ranch on September 24.

The next month, the bath house was sold to Mrs. W. C. Mann, the current tenant, for $160. She was the only bidder.

Immediately after the sale the old building was removed from the beach. A new era of "no commercial development on the beach" then began and has been cherished by true Carmelites ever since. Even those residents, who hated to see the old bath house become a vanished tradition, now acknowledge its removal was most beneficial.

Imagine if, today, a Bath House Commission had to operate a municipal community facility on the beach, what a headache it would be!

White Oaks To Give 'Cosi fan Tutte'

Thirty musicians, all members of the California Chamber Ensemble of Los Angeles, join forces with White Oaks Theatre's musical company for four presentations of Mozart's comic work, "Cosi fan Tutte," September 8-11. The ensemble will also be seen in concert on September 11, 2:30 o'clock at White Oaks Theatre.

Performed in English, "Cosi" is being directed and conducted by Chris Nance and staged by Shirley Eoff. Voices for the show are those of Tracy Carr (Dorabella on Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday), Peggy Hewett (Dorabella on Friday), Shelia Jo White, Emily Lawhead, Richard Veale, Doug Stobie, and Ed Crafts.

The Sunday afternoon concert will be conducted by Nance and includes Mozart's "Serenade No. 12 in C Minor," Stravinsky's "Dumbarton Oaks" Concerto, and Brahms' "Serenade No. 2 in A Major, Opus 16."

Tickets and information for both events are available at White Oaks Theatre and Central Box Office in Carmel.

BOOSTERS CLUB NEEDS STAMPS

To give supporters of the Carmel High School athletic fund additional time in which to obtain tickets through the Boosters Club, also the junior boosters, the organization has voted to delay the drawing for the prizes until half-time at the high school's first varsity game, against San Lorenzo Valley, on October 1. Tickets may also be obtained at the Rinky-Dink, opposite the fire house.

The Rinky-Dink will also accept trading stamps (Green or Blue Chip)—and even lick 'em for you—to help defray the cost of the first prize, a trip to Hawaii for two. If you can't bring your stamps, call Jim Kelsey (624-6630) and someone will pick them up.

Mrs. Maringer

Mrs. Natalie Maringer, a resident of Carmel since 1938, died Friday in a local rest home.

Rosary will be recited at 8:15 p.m. tonight at the Paul Mortuary, and a requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 9 a.m. at Carmel Mission Basilica. Interment will take place in the Monterey Catholic Cemetery.

The Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

LINES FROM

THE STUDIO

Our feelings are hurt. The Wall Street Journal has slighted us twice. Bad enough to run a front page story on "The Fantasticks" without mentioning its whopping success at The Studio. But last week they ignored us again in a feature article on theatre-restaurants. Sloppy reporting, we call it! We take solace that dinner-theatre and "The Fantasticks" have made the WSJ, as The Studio proudly offers them in combination. Alas, only four more performances of "The Fantasticks" through Sunday night. (WSJ free to reprint.) Next Thursday: "Never Too Late," that wacky comedy about belated parenthood, which will be on stage for the next six weekends. $5.50 for dinner and show; $2.75 for show only.

WHAT STRIKE?

Bob McGinnis Travel had its hands full during that 45 day debacle, but rather than "Giving Up," by telling our many friends we couldn't get seats on the airlines . . . we exerted EVERY effort . . . even taking turns at telephoning during early morning hours. (These were the only times we could reach reservations). Telegrams were sent requesting space and by a stroke of good fortune we were able to reserve space for 75% of the several hundred who called us.

For those who were not so fortunate, we're sorry . . . BUT TRY US AGAIN!

MR. AND MRS. DOYLE CLAYTON

The happy couple in the photograph are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Jack Clayton, whose marriage was an August 20 event. The Reverend Elmer Roy performed the early afternoon ceremony at Monterey First Presbyterian Church.

The bride, the former Susan Elizabeth Segali, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Segali of Monterey. Her new husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clayton of Carmel.

The newlyweds will make their home in Palo Alto, where the bridegroom will direct a new crafts program at Mountain View High School.

Mayers Off To East

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mayer, their German Ford "bus" groaning at its springs, left yesterday to drive across the country to Amherst, where Mr. Mayer is a professor of English at the University of Massachusetts on an appointment of alternate calendar years. The house the Mayers are building in Deerfield, according to Jane Mayer, is really a two-story barn with four fireplaces.

The Mayers will return to Carmel in January in preparation for Mr. Mayer's lecture tour in Northern California next Spring.

Salt Lake Sojourn

Mrs. Virginia Haak has returned from a visit—enjoyably prolonged by the airline strike—with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Macklin (Marjorie Haak) and the couple's two small boys and daughter in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Haak's younger daughter, Betty, will enter UC Berkeley next month after completing her freshman year at UC Santa Barbara. A Carmel High School graduate, as is her sister, Betty has been attending classes at Monterey Peninsula College this summer.

It Would Be The Time!

Scott Sumner, 11-year-old Little Leaguer son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Dick Sumner (Patricia Timbers) of Yreka, planned to fly to San Francisco from Medford, Oregon, last Friday to meet his grandfather, Howard Timbers of Carmel, in time to see the Giant-Dodger game at 8 p.m. The plane, scheduled to arrive in San Francisco at 6:45 p. m., is always on time, but that evening a feathered prop caused a single motor descent at Chico. Consequently, Scott arrived in San Francisco at 9 p.m. but he saw half of the baseball game and his grandfather hopes that next time Scott has better luck with any plane flight, also with the Giants.

MARRIED AT CARMEL MISSION

Pictured in front of Carmel Mission Basilica are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Le Roy Owens, the former Claire Marie Low of Carmel, who exchanged wedding vows before the Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne in an early afternoon nuptial mass on August 20.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Low of Carmel and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Low of Carmel. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Owens of Bakersfield.

Neills Enjoyed Europe

Although strikes often plagued their transportation, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Neill Sr. enjoyed two months in Europe and the British Isles this summer. When they arrived in London, after visiting France, Germany, Belgium and Luxembourg, they found that the buses were not operating on Thursdays and Sundays. The strike schedule, Mrs. Neill explains, was arranged so as not to inconvenience too many passengers.

After checking the English factory where Mrs. Neill selects the handsome brass for the Village Hardware, the Neills spent a month in Ireland before flying home from Dublin. "Hopefully," says Mrs. Neill, "the car we bought in Europe will arrive someday."

New Grandson Visited

Mrs. Eleanor Gann of Pebble Beach had the first glimpse recently of her new grandson, Conrad Gann, who was born in Rome last November. George Gann II and his wife, Karen, have been here visiting accompanied by Conrad and their other children, Christopher and Allyson. George, first officer on a Standard Oil tanker, took a long leave to join his family in Italy, where his wife was staying with her mother, Mrs. Carrado Galazzi. They traveled to Paris, Seville and Madrid before returning in July to their home in Belvedere.

Currently facing the Moscow housing shortage are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fry (Polly Gann), who celebrated their first wedding anniversary in Copenhagen while en route to Mr. Fry's new post. He is second undersecretary and vice consul in charge of visas in the U. S. Embassy in the Russian capital. Upon their arrival, Mrs. Gann reports, Polly was immediately put to work in the cultural affairs department.

Ruth McElroy Is Home

"I played maids all summer, so I'm all set up for a catering job," announces Ruth Marion McElroy, who returned last week from her summer season with the Traverse City Players in Michigan. With Ruthie in residence, McElroy Manor is back to its delightful confusion, friends, children and grandchildren coming and going.

Lucinda Fry, who attended Carmel High School while living with her grandmother, left for William Woods College in Fulton, Missouri, this week. Granddaughter Ruth Fry is out to seek her fortune in the world (Pacific Grove). Their mother, Mrs. Anne Fry, and her other daughters, Roberta and Noelle are arriving from Southern California.

Ruthie reports that Dan Tothoroh is here visiting Connie and Francis Palms, also former residents, the Melvin Douglasses, and that former Carmelite Bill Fort turned up in the cast of some of the productions in Traverse City. Dan Tothoroh, whose home is in Mill Valley, is director of the Tiburon Players and has just finished his annual labor of love, the Tamalpais Mountain Play.

Newlyweds Return

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Handley, the former Barbara J. Williams, are returning this week from a wedding trip which took them to our two newest states. Following their marriage on July 23 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Williams of El Sobrante, the couple spent 12 days at Kona Plantation, Hawaii. They came back for a brief stay in the house they have bought in Robles del Rio before flying to Alaska for a week.

The bridegroom, owner-manager of H & H Supply of Seaside, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Handley of Carmel.

Rendezvous in Minnesota

Mrs. Howard E. Clark joined her son and daughter to visit remembered places in Minnesota this summer. With Elton Clark, his wife, Dona, and the couple's son, David, Mrs. Clark drove across the country from Los Angeles to Lake Hubert, where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. John P. Becker (Priscilla Clark) and their daughter, Joan. The group enjoyed a stay at the family cabin on Howard Lake, where Mrs. Clark had spent her childhood summers and where her children had also learned to love the beauty of the lake country.

The Beckers had come from Washington, D. C. where Mr. Becker is presently assigned as a foreign service officer in the U. S. State Department after his last post in Canada.

ONE-WAY STREETS

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

Inasmuch as I am a property owner on Ocean Avenue and Dolores Street, I would like to add my approval of one-way streets in Carmel—namely the business district. They seem to me to be the answer to the congestion. They work famously in other towns—for one, Palo Alto. I am all for them.

Very truly,
Mabel L. Linsley

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

Your article "If You Can't Beat Them, Join Them" in which you suggested the establishment of one-way streets as a solution to the congestion caused by double parking of trucks on the streets of Carmel challenged me to a thorough rereading of that portion of the ordinances of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea devoted to traffic regulations. These regulations are to be found in Part IV, Division I, Articles I through II on Pages 16 through 18A of the Ordinances.

While I agree that one-way streets are needed in Carmel to provide more effective use of the streets of a small town which was designed with no reason to anticipate that the traffic flow would reach the present proportions, I doubt seriously the wisdom of simply abandoning the rights of the general public to the careless habits of truck drivers. I find nothing in the traffic regulations of the city ordinances exempting truck drivers from conforming and obeying the laws as outlined therein pertaining to their particular use of the streets.

It is true that these regulations could be strengthened by additional definite specifications, but if they were observed as they now stand, the problem would be greatly minimized. It seems to me that the responsibility for correcting this deplorable situation must be shared by the merchants to whom deliveries are being made and who could easily determine whether the truck is parked legally, the truck driver himself whose job must be sufficiently important that he would not care to lose it for careless and illegal abuse of the double parking privilege, and finally by the local traffic officers who do not hesitate to exercise the duties of their office in relation to the parking of private cars. How many of them have actually examined the location of a parked truck in accordance with Article 9 of Section 543 or Article II of Section 551 of Part IV of the city ordinance devoted to public welfare and safety? Or, have they, too, decided that truck drivers have some holy rights denied the rest of the public?

Maybe this is a subject for our city council to look squarely in the face. Because I think it is, a copy of this letter is being sent the Mayor. And because I regard it as a problem testing the degree of citizenship of the merchants to whom deliveries are being made I can only hope they take seriously the suggestion that they help with its solution. It would be of little profit to them or to the truck drivers should enough citizens become sufficiently aroused that they would cease patronizing those places of business which permit this situation to continue.

But, let's not overlook the value of one-way streets to help relieve the traffic congestion regardless of where or how trucks are parked. That is another subject for clear-eyed confrontation by our city council.

Sincerely yours,
Julia Minor

Editor's Note: Police Chief Clyde Klaumann cites Section 225-02 of the California Vehicle Code in regard to double parking of trucks on Carmel streets. This part of the state law says that all cars must park adjacent to the right hand curb of a street except as otherwise provided, then continues by saying "This section does not apply to commercial vehicles when loading or unloading merchandise or passengers."

State law supersedes city ordinances, therefore, should a Carmel policeman cite a truck for double parking, this citation would be dismissed in municipal court because no state statute is violated by double parking of delivery trucks, or passenger buses. As the state law stands, local police are powerless in regard to commercial vehicles. The city council, also the planning commission, have studied this situation and have found no legal solution. M.L.

Group Forms To Insure Equitable Open Space Tax

The preservation of California's vitally needed open spaces for recreation, conservation and the production of food supplies close to major population centers is the goal of Californians for Open Space Conservation and Recreation which was announced, August 20 to insure an overwhelming Yes vote on Proposition 3 on the November ballot.

Proposition 3 will permit legislation for equitable taxing of open space land used for recreation, conservation of natural resources and production of food and fiber.

The open space legislation was passed unanimously by the California State Senate and was overwhelmingly passed by the State Assembly.

According to State Senator Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) author of the open space legislation and member of the Yes on 3 executive committee, Northern California chairman of Yes on Proposition 3 groups will be Allen L. Chickering, San Francisco attorney and conservation and recreation leader. Southern California chairman will be Arthur Freed, motion picture industry leader, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, and president of the Men's Garden Club of Los Angeles.

A joint statement by Chickering and Freed says, "Yes on Proposition 3 should have the solid support of every Californian who wants space for their children and family to enjoy recreation time; of every Californian who wants to stop the mounting cost of good by keeping our precious food growing acres close to our city areas; and of every Californian who wants to protect our state's unrivaled and irreplaceable scenic beauty."

Yes on Proposition 3 has already been endorsed by the League of California Cities, the State Soil Conservation Commission, the California AFL-CIO, the California Farm Bureau, the California State Democratic Central Committee, the Conservation Law Society of America and the Sierra Club.

Dean Witter Report On Paper Industry

The paper industry has done a thorough job of "cleaning house" in recent years. Plants have been modernized, machines speeded up and made more efficient, and new equipment has been added. The result: the industry is in the best position in its history, according to a new research study by Dean Witter & Co.

Meanwhile, consumption continues to rise and prices have almost returned to previous high levels.

This is important to investors who are trying to determine which stocks will be among the future market leaders. And, according to the investment brokerage firm's study, "the paper industry is approaching a period similar to that of 1949-56 when paper equities were among the stock leaders in appreciation."

The report, authored by Ralph W. Michaud, Dean Witter's senior analyst for the paper industry, is a review and forecast and discusses four companies which the firm believes are "the most attractive paper industry equities for market appreciation." These include Crown Zellerbach, Georgia Pacific, International Paper and Weyerhaeuser.

MAYOR GRANT IS AWAY

Mayor Stephen Grant, Prudential Insurance Company agent here, left "either Tuesday, Wednesday or not at all," in his own words, to attend a business conference at Banff Springs Hotel. The confusion over his departure is attributed to the current state of railway travel.

One of the largest research/analysis staffs in the business has come up with some answers...and a free report. It points to the paper industry as being in its best position ever—and approaching a period like '50 through '56 when paper equities outperformed the Standard & Poor's index of industrial stocks by a wide margin. Some of the reasons...

A recent industry housecleaning—new plants, equipment, production methods. ■ A steady increase in paper consumption. ■ A return to former, top price levels. ■ A reversal of virtually all factors which had weakened paper stocks since '56.

Which four paper companies do we feel promise the most? What are the reasons? Find out—fast—with a free copy of "Review of the Paper Industry". For your copy, simply visit or call any Dean Witter office.

FOREST HILL MANOR

Pacific Grove

Forest Hill Manor members announce as a coming attraction "something old, something new."

On Thursday afternoon, 3:00-5:00 p.m., there will be an interesting Hobby Show displaying hobbies enjoyed by members. The show will be of two types—creative work, and collections.

The former will include samples of tatting, knitting, painting, sweater decorating, writing done by members. Others have collections of coins, stamps, artifacts, there will be on sale some costume jewelry and other small articles which can be spared, or of which the owner has wearied, as well as miscellaneous "ends and odds."

And for those with a sweet tooth there will be a table of jam, jelly, cookies and candy, all homemade. All sale proceeds will be used for programs and membership activities.

Neighbors and friends are to come and enjoy the displays, and to buy, if tempted.

Travel here and there is a matter of prime interest at present. Manor members are journeying to Europe, New England, New York State, Alaska and other less distant areas outside and within California. September will find them returning to renewed activities and Fall schedules are being filled with interesting events. Several new members have recently joined the Manor family.

HACIENDA CARMEL

Carmel Valley

"Around the World in 60 Minutes" . . . This fashion show was really "tops" with fashions shown by Derek Rayne Ltd. of Carmel and exquisite furs by Furs by the Sea, Carmel. A new feature was added to this showing . . . beautiful artificial flowers with each table displaying a different arrangement. They were from Karen's Kreations, Carmel. Models, both male and female, were from Derek Rayne's own shop.

George Petty, a Hacienda resident and noted artist, produced an attractive poster for the show with a touch of humor and exquisite form. He is known for his Petty Girl illustrations.

PINPOINT PROFILE

"Painting is a world of color. I could never just sketch in black and white. To me things have to have color." So says Helen Oehler, versatile interpretive artist, now living in Hacienda Carmel. The new art, abstractions in geometric forms, is not for her.

Best known as a landscape artist, Helen Oehler has shown her work successfully throughout the U. S. and Europe.

I think when we quote "art is the mirror of one's understanding and should reflect success," we have summed up the theory by which she has lived. Success has been her goal and the proof of it is in the numerous landscapes and seascapes we found in her colorful studio.

"Nude in Sunlight" is what she calls her thesis. Perfection is the sonnet of all painting, therefore to be striven for. Truly, she demonstrates this. Her understanding of nature, her extraordinary use of light and shade, her soft coloring, all reveal the skill of this prolific painter. And when one speaks of dedication to one's work, I think the following story proves it.

Some time ago she was painting one of her favorites, "Sea Anemones in Rocks", and became so absorbed with her subject she completely forgot the tide. Fortunately she swims, because that is exactly what she had to do to get back to shore. Holding her equipment high above her head she reached the sandy beach.

Helen Gopen and Professor Oehler were married in Ottawa, Illinois. She met him when they were both teaching at Dixon, Illinois, in 1920. She has been a member of and has exhibited with American Artists Professional League, American Water Color Society, Allied Artists of America, Audubon Artists, New Jersey Watercolor Society, Painters and Sculptors Society of New Jersey, Ridgewood Art Association, National Association of Women Artists, Provincetown Art Association, Artists Associates and Society of Western Artists.

She was a librarian on summer faculties of the Chicago Art Institute. Later she taught history of ancient art in Evanston, Illinois. She had private studios in Cleveland, Ohio, New Jersey, Mill Valley and Hacienda Carmel.

She has served in the New York area in many executive capacities for most of the national artists associations and for three years held the post of national director of American Art Week.

Once, Helen Oehler had a one-man exhibit in a country club in Michigan, an elderly gentleman walked in and said, "I am not going to buy anything, I am just looking." However, the next day he came back, with checkbook in hand. "I'm here," he said, "because I saw a little painting I want. It will tie in with my collection of landscapes and seascapes." And he bought the little painting for that specific purpose.

Another time she was painting in a little village when an old fellow came along and peered over her shoulder. He was on his way into town but later when he came by he looked again "Well," he observed, "you've got the right color for that old barn. The last painter here missed it a mile."

Which reminds us of a Dennis the Menace cartoon recently. Dennis was watching an artist when he bluntly exclaimed, "You've got the wrong color on that house. You had better get yourself a camera."

Helen Oehler was one of the money winners in an art exhibit held by the residents of Hacienda Carmel at the Casa Fiesta recently.

MPC Fall Film Series Announced

Six films, all keyed to the theme "An Approach to Modern Tragedy," will be offered at a nominal fee during the Fall semester at Monterey Peninsula College.

Each film will be screened only once—at 7:30 p.m.—in the MPC Music Hall, and each screening will feature a film moderator or guest authority who will lead a discussion and critique tied to the series' theme.

The series will open September 30 with Federico Fellini's poetic film, "La Strada." Succeeding films will include "Requiem for a Heavyweight," "Suddenly Last Summer," "Nobody Waved Good-bye," "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing," and "One Summer of Happiness."

Two of the films will be shown in conjunction with evening lectures. Gore Vidal, co-author of "Suddenly Last Summer," will speak in the college's evening lecture series November 19, the night after the showing of the film. Dr. Han Suyin will lecture January 6, a week before the screening of "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing."

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel 624-3881.

Valley Fiesta Song Contest

Entries are already coming in to Mrs. Mark Fields, chairman of the song contest sponsored by the Carmel Valley Fiesta de Los Amigos committee.

The contest is to find a song for the Carmel Valley Fiesta and Ball on September 24. The event is being given by the Carmel Valley Women's Club in cooperation with all Valley civic and social organizations as a benefit for children's activities.

The contest is open to everyone. Lyrics must pertain to Carmel Valley, preferably in a Spanish mood, and must be original. Music must be for piano (melody only will be acceptable). Entries must be mailed to Mrs. Fields, Encina Drive, Carmel Valley not later than midnight on September 10. Entrants must enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope if they wish to have their song returned. If the winner's song is published, the Women's Club reserves the right to ten percent of royalties. Decision of the judges will be final.

The winner of the contest will be a special guest at the Fiesta de Los Amigos, also will receive a $25 prize.

LIONS CLUB HEARS TRAVEL IMPRESSIONS

Dr. Henry Hart of San Francisco, educator, world traveler and lecturer, delivered another of his interesting talks before the Carmel Lions Club last week — for the sixteenth consecutive year. He has recently returned from another three-month tour of North Africa, the Mediterranean area and western Europe and gave an accounting of his experiences and impressions in Morocco, Sardinia, Gibraltar, France, Liechtenstein and England. The Carmel Lions have come to look forward to his annual return visits and enjoyed this one immensely.

Art News . . .

Nine California artists have been invited by California Council, AIA, to show their works at the CCAIA's third "Fine Arts for Architecture" exhibition at the 21st annual CCAIA convention, October 6-9 in Monterey.

The invited artists, nominated by California AIA members, are sculptor Louis B. Beardslee III of Woodside; sculptor Aristides Demetrios of San Francisco; muralist Edith Hamlin of San Francisco; sculptor Jack Hoag of Berkeley; ceramicist-potter Doyle Lane of El Sereno; weaver-sculptor Miriam Leefe of Sausalito; sculptor Gordon Newell of Monterey; sculptor Stepan Novak of Berkeley; and weaver Hal Painter of Sebastopol.

Oil paintings by Norma A. Fox, wife of Frank Fox, president of the California Test Bureau and vice president of McGraw Hill Publishing Co., are presently on display at Rancho Del Monte Club in Carmel Valley. These paintings are large moving areas of color, some bright, some subdued, showing strength and vitality.

Norma Fox was born in New York City. She studied at New York University and Fairleigh Dickinson University. She has traveled in Europe, Mexico and the United States.

In 1954-1956 she was one of three "Young Americans" exhibiting tapestries at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts, New York City. She received honorable mention in a third show in 1958. Her work was circulated by the American Federation of Arts in 1958-1959. She also exhibited at America House, New York City in 1960.

In 1959, Mrs. Fox's work was included in a group show at Cooper Union Museum's 50th anniversary, also in a group show at the Newark Museum. She won first prize at Fairleigh Dickinson Art Festival in 1962.

Since 1962, she has exhibited her painting in numerous group shows and won a Prentice-Hall Book Prize in 1964.

Her most recent exhibit was held at the Grove Gallery in May.

Seven teachers — Arthur Kolb, Donald Blakeman, Mrs. Sarah Sproull, Marvin Patterson, Mrs. Priscilla Nesbitt and Miss Nancy Loyd participated in the highly successful summer school program directed by Dr. Abraham Fischler which allowed them to evaluate their teaching by means of televised recordings of their class instruction sessions.

INTERESTED IN BROWNING?

Dr. and Mrs. Fred L. Farley wonder if there are others who might be interested in forming a Browning group to enjoy discussing the poet's work and life, possibly to meet once a month. The group might meet at the Farleys' home or another convenient location such as the Church of the Wayfarer. Anyone who is interested is invited to phone them at 624-2291.

AWARDED DECORATION

Lieutenant Colonel Edwin M. Rudzis, Marine Corps representative on the staff of the Naval Postgraduate School, (left) shakes hands with Rear Admiral E. J. O'Donnell, USNPG Superintendent, who has just presented him with a Bronze Star Medal. Standing beside the admiral are Mrs. Rudzis and three of the children, Susan, 14, John, 10, and Therese, 4. The medal was awarded with Combat "V" for action in Viet Nam. He was cited for his actions while serving as commander of the Fourth Battalion of the Twelfth Marine Regiment. Despite many hazards, Colonel Rudzis conducted reconnaissance missions deep into enemy territory and flew as aerial observer to provide relief for Marines regularly assigned to that duty, also organized and conducted training sessions for the benefit of all marine artillery commands in Viet Nam. The Rudzis family lives in Mission Fields.

SCHOOL DISTRICT AID

The State Board of Equalization today announced that property in Monterey County is assessed, on the average, at 21.6 percent of its full cash value. This finding together with similar findings for the past two years will be used in arriving at the amount of state school aid to school districts.

Chairman George R. Reilly said that the board found the 58-county weighted average was 22.1 percent for the 1966-67 fiscal year. This figure is up slightly from the 21.8 percent found last year.

Eleanor Marino

Private family services were held this week in the Paul Funeral Chapel, Pacific Grove, for Mrs. Eleanor Ocheltree Marino, who died Saturday in a local nursing home after a lengthy illness.

A Carmel resident since 1936, Mrs. Marino was born in Berkeley February 18, 1904.

She was a member of the Carmel Foundation and the Carmel Woman's Club.

Mrs. Marino is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Theodore Smith, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Ray Avery of Washington, D. C.; a daughter, Mrs. Deborah McMillan of Palos Verdes; a son, Gareth Geering of Northfield, Illinois; and four grandchildren. Her husband, the late Anthony Marino, died here in 1949.

Burial took place in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

Those wishing to make contributions in memory of Mrs. Marino may do so to the Carmel Foundation, Box 3424, Carmel.

Ralph Ransom

Requiem mass was celebrated Tuesday morning in Carmel Mission Basilica for Ralph F. Ransom, who died Sunday in a local hospital after a lengthy illness.

Familiarly known as "Pop" Ransom, he was the golf professional for the city of Stockton for more than 32 years and had made his home in Carmel for the past five years with his daughter, Barbara Ransom, a noted golfer. His wife, the late Gertrude Ransom, died in 1961.

Born February 6, 1896, Mr. Ransom was a native of Jewell County, Kansas.

Burial took place in the Catholic section of Mission Memorial Park. The Dorney and Farlinger chapel was in charge of arrangements.

Kiwanis Club Rummage Sale

The always eagerly anticipated Carmel Kiwanis Club annual rummage sale will have some innovations and a new location this Saturday. For the first time, the club is holding its fund-raising event at the former cafeteria at Sunset Center (Sunset School). Since so many bargain hunters arrived early, members have decided to serve coffee and doughnuts at a nominal charge. Hours of the sale are from 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Ken Dyer, sale chairman, reports that a great deal of new merchandise has been donated by Carmel businesses. There will also be the usual good selection of used furniture, appliances, clothing, books and other useful items.

Proceeds from the event will be used for community activities, among which, last year, were the Kiwanis' donation of eight trees to the city for center strip planting on Junipero Street and funds for the building of the new Little League baseball field.

First Choral Society Rehearsal Next Week

The first rehearsal of the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society this season will be held on September 7, according to director John Gosling. Registration will precede the first rehearsal and placement auditions for new members will be held at the same time in the choral room at Monterey High School (use Logan Lane entrance). Rehearsals will follow each Wednesday evening at the same time, 7-9 p.m.

Mr. Gosling recently returned from a conducting and study tour in Europe and will present plans for a major music festival to be held on the Peninsula this Fall. The full year's repertoire of the Choral Society will include works of Bach, Stravinsky and Beethoven.

An invitation is extended to all men and women who enjoy singing in a group to attend the first meeting. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. John Beahan, president of the Choral Society (624-2838), or Mrs. Claudine Van Vleet (624-8170).

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press, Dial Carmel 624-3881.

Peninsula Masons Invite Citizens To Talk On Constitution

According to their annual September custom, Masonic lodges of California are observing the establishment of the Constitution of the United States. The four lodges on the Peninsula have secured as speaker for their observance, on Admission Day, September 9, Justice Marshall F. McComb of the California Supreme Court. He will give an address, open to the public, on the constitution of our country which is 175 years old this year. The meeting will be held in the Pacific Grove Junior High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Masonic fraternity.

Mayors of the six Peninsula cities have signed proclamations declaring the month of September as Constitution Observance Month and urging citizens to attend the Admission Day meeting sponsored by the Masons.

MPC Adult Piano Classes Offered

Daytime classes in intermediate and advanced piano, taught by Angie Machado, Carmel pianist, will be open to the adults of the community during the fall semester at Monterey Peninsula College, Dr. Harvey Marshall, MPC music department chairman announces.

Miss Machado is an instructor in the department.

The open classes include third and fourth semester courses in piano instruction. These classes are recommended for students who need to meet the piano requirement for a teaching credential and for those who wish to play for personal pleasure.

Also offered is advanced piano, in which the student studies and performs piano literature comparable to Bach preludes or fugues and Mozart, Haydn or Beethoven sonatas.

Piano-ensemble is a course for the study and performance of two-piano and four-hand one-piano literature.

CARMEL POLICEMEN COMPLETE MPC INSTITUTE

Monterey Peninsula College graduated 34 police officers from two criminal investigation institutes during the summer, according to Richard H. Snibbe, MPC police science instructor.

Receiving college credit and certification from the California State Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training were the following members of the Carmel police department:

Walter P. Boyle, William H. Ellis, John S. Eversoll, Edward P. Fischer, Francis P. Fischer, Lester V. Fletcher, Peter G. Koenen, Morris D. Singletary and Delbert S. Wermuth.

Altar Society Tea

The Altar Society of Carmel Mission Basilica will hold its first meeting of the 1966-67 year, the annual membership tea, in Crespi Hall on September 8 at 2 p.m. Potential new members, whether active or associate, will be welcomed, and all women of the parish are invited to attend.

Hostesses will be Mrs. S. Hasket Derby, Miss Dorothy Peacock, Mrs. G. Robert Giet, Miss Kathleen Webster and Mrs. Frank La-Cauza.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. John Francis Doud, president; Mrs. Francis Sparolini, vice-president; Mrs. Sergei Bormenko, secretary and Miss Gretchen Wahl, treasurer.

Community Church
Ground-Breaking
Ceremony Sunday

The board of governors of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula invites interested friends to attend a ground-breaking ceremony on Sunday at 11 a.m. at the church site on the Carmel Valley Road, 9/10 of a mile East of Highway One.

Culminating a successful financial drive and the period of a year in planning, the buildings of the church will soon begin to rise. Although not everything on the master plan, prepared by Walter Burde, will be built at this stage, a very workable church structure will be completed.

The Reverend Burkert Cree, Community Church minister, announces that the speaker for the ground-breaking ceremony will be Dr. Howard Thurman, minister emeritus of the Church for the Fellowship of All Peoples in San Francisco and author of a number of books on spiritual life. He is one of the great pastor-preachers of this country.

Following the ceremony, luncheon will be served to members and friends under the twin pines on the church site.

Carmel Mission
Fiesta October 9

The colorful fiesta and barbecue which traditionally celebrates the feast day of San Carlos de Borromeo has been scheduled for October 9, and will again take place in the courtyard of historic Carmel Mission Basilica.

This year's fiesta will be the first that the Mission's pastor, Bishop Harry Clinch, has been able to attend. Bishop Clinch, who has been in Rome participating in sessions of the Ecumenical Council during previous fiestas, is looking forward to being here for the feast day, and has commented that the spirit of brotherhood fostered by the historic community festival is very much in harmony with today's ecumenical trends.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

God's use of man as His witness will be a major theme of the Bible Lesson on "Man" at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Job—"God exalteth by his power . . . Remember that thou magnify his work, which, men behold."

Passages to be read from the denominational textbook will include these lines: "God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God . . . The highest earthly representative of God, speaking of human ability to reflect divine power, prophetically said to his disciples, speaking not for their day only but for all time: 'He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also;' and 'These signs shall follow them that believe'" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

ON THE BEACH

Nothing like it available. Nothing to ever obstruct the view. Nothing to compare it with. The 4 bedrooms are large . . . the den is small . . . the living room, dining room and lanai are large, and the 5 bathrooms are all tiled.

Under the market at $125,000—Terms.

PARTY PLANS . . .

By Phyllis Jervey

HOW KEEN IS OUR VALLEY!

Sophisticated but informal is our plan for a "laborless" Labor Day weekend. Let's start with the rejuvenated Carmel Valley Inn which Graeme and John Harrison now mastermind. A true Californian, John spent his boyhood summers with his grandparents in Carmel. William Greer Harrison, who founded the Olympic Club in San Francisco, was his grandfather. His wife, Graeme, the oldest boy or girl was always so named, was born in Vancouver, Canada. Both are confirmed Carmelites although last year the Valley looked greener to them than Carmel.

If you care to find a small United Nations in these parts, visit their inn. The staff consists mostly of students from Japan, the Philippines, Australia, Armenia, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Chile. Semi-official greeters are French poodle "Stash" and "Siamese Cat." Graeme had always wanted a spacious garden but hadn't envisioned the ten rolling acres of expanse which is now their busy domain. One hardly vegetates in this sunny and bracing atmosphere! If anyone has drive and go it's petite, dynamic Mrs. Harrison. Everybody is inspired to follow suit what with sun-drenched swimming, volley ball, badminton, croquet, tennis and a putting green plus horseback and hiking trails available. As these activities work up real country appetites, PARTY PLANS toured the inn, especially the super modern kitchen, and asked questions.

"Mrs. Harrison, do you ever go into this large kitchen and whip up a bite for just you two?" Mrs. H. pondered a moment while signing chits for butcher and grocer, answering queries from Mrs. B., head chef; Jerry Saroyan, assistant chef; and Hector Fernandez, majordomo from Santiago, Chile.

"Last week," replied Graeme, "we had a rice cooking contest in here after hours, just the staff, to see which co-called Spanish rice was judged the most authentic."

"Where did you get the recipes?"

"Why from Phyllis Jervey's Rice & Spice" was the flash answer. "The Saffron Rice won over California-Mexican Arroz with tomatoes and chili powder. Excuse me, I must see about 75 doctors who are about to arrive for a convention." Off dashed Graeme cool as a breeze.

Turning to Fernandez, we asked him, in pursuit of recipes, "What would you have in Chile for an easy al fresco lunch or supper which could be duplicated in Carmel?"

WHAT TO SERVE WHEN IT'S CHILE IN CARMEL

By Hector Fernandez
Langosta con Mayonesa (Lobster with Mayonnaise)
Carbonada de Chile (Chilean Meat Stew)
Frutas Quesos Vinos The Cafe (Fruits Cheeses Wines Tea Coffee)
Langostas are similar to Southern California's spiny lobsters. In Chile these are tied, alive, so that tail and body form one compact unit. Then they are plunged into boiling salted water and simmered until just tender. Never overcook or they will toughen. Cool, split, clean and chill. Serve with homemade mayonnaise concocted from freshest egg yolks, olive oil, drop by drop, with lemon juice and salt to taste. The seafood and fish is so sweet, it is served straight from the Pacific Ocean with as little cooking and seasoning as possible.

CARBONADA de CHILE (Chilean Meat Stew) (Serves 6)

Three lbs. lamb, cubed; 1 cup onions, chopped; 3 tbsps. fat; 12 tiny new potatoes, peeled; 12 baby carrots, peeled; 1 lb. new string beans, broken into 1 inch pieces; 2 cups young green corn, scraped with juice from cob; 2 egg yolks, beaten; salt and pepper to taste.

Saute meat in fat (turkey, chicken or veal may be used) with onions; brown lightly. Use heavy casserole on top of fire. Add water just to cover and simmer, covered, until meat is almost done; add vegetables and cook until just tender. Season to taste. Before serving very hot, put eggs in bottom of large tureen. Pour some of stock from carbonada over eggs, stirring constantly. Add rest of stew and serve steaming. Add chopped fresh parsley on top. Serve in deep soup dishes. This can be prepared ahead of time and reheated (without boiling) at the last minute. Vegetables must remain firm and fresh tasting.

The fruits of Chile are sondia (watermelon); chirimoya (delicate green with lovely fragrance); durazno (peaches); cruelas (prunes); uvas (grapes). Follow through with a native cheese called Cueca-Huaso Chileno. The wines served there are Concha y Toro and Cunaco.

This menu can be produced as effortlessly in Carmel as in Chile. It is sophisticated yet simple to prepare. You may also serve lobster cocktail straight from a can instead of de luxe lobster tails. While we don't have all the exotic Chilean fruits, what could be more inviting than Carmel Valley fruit and vegetables on local stands right now? California wines and Monterey Jack cheese need no alternative for they are superior in themselves.

For juniors we give a delicious substitute for the Carbonada — Sautéed lamburgers. They may appeal more to the younger set.

SAUCED LAMBURGERS

2 slices bacon	1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper	1 gravy
1 medium clove garlic, minced	1 pound ground lamb
Generous dash crushed rosemary	¾ teaspoon salt
	Dash pepper

In saucepan, cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Cook green pepper, garlic, and rosemary in drippings until green pepper is tender. Add gravy and bacon. Combine ¼ cup sauce with remaining ingredients; shape into 4 patties. Place on broiler pan 4 inches from heat. Cook 10 minutes on each side. Meanwhile, heat remaining sauce; stir now and then. Serve with patties. Makes 4 servings.

Outdoor Method: Prepare sauce and shape patties as directed. Place patties on grill about 6 inches above glowing coals. Cook 10 minutes on each side or until done. Meanwhile, heat remaining sauce; stir now and then. Serve with patties.

NOT FOR MILLIONAIRES

We have no objection to millionaires; in fact, we like them and have plenty of other houses for the "carriage trade". But, these two are for folks like the majority of us.

For example, that wonderful family home at 66 OLIVER RD., MISSION FIELDS. Perfect for folks who take pride in home ownership, want to be near schools, like congenial neighbors and know how to be a good neighbor, and believe in the old American tradition of thrift. This immaculate, modern three bedroom home originally listed at $27,500 was well worth that price. But, the out-of-town owners realize the money market prohibits the average buyer from paying that sum so they have reduced the price to $26,500 and have indicated they would consider $26,000 from a "qualified buyer". If you are "qualified" and if you are thrifty you will not overlook this opportunity. Financing can be discussed in the office. Call for an appointment.

Then, if you are a dreamer of dreams and one of those dreams has been of owning an older CARMEL HOUSE OF CHARM, one West of San Carlos and South of Ocean Ave., we offer a rambling house with two bedrooms, beamed Cathedral ceilings, and beautiful landscaping for only $32,500. Do not ask for exact location so you can "drive by" because it is occupied by the perfect tenant whose privacy must be respected. Call for an appointment and come to the office to discuss details. You might want it for week-ends only or you might want to make some improvements for full time occupancy. Regardless of the various alternatives, we are sure you will want this house if you have dreamed of owning an older typically Carmel house within easy walking distance of the beach and village.

WARNING!

You May Fall Madly in Love

With This Charming Chalet!

You get the picture the moment you walk in the door: The crisp walk on the beach was wonderful and now, while your guests gather round the middle-of-the-room fireplace, you set out a buffet supper (previously prepared in the big, gourmet's kitchen) on the tile counters of the pantry-bar. Then enjoy with your guests the fine acoustics which the cathedral ceiling and paneled walls provide for your stereo equipment.

When the last embers die, you retire to your own suite and your guests to theirs, in a separate end of the house. Next morning, breakfast in the sunny South patio. This is a sociable house—a house to live in, a house worth falling in love with, and one which will delight your family and friends with its originality, its graciousness—and its VERY easy upkeep.

It's located between Carmel Mission and the beach, one of Carmel's sunniest and most delightful areas. The price is $55,000. Let us show it to you and see if your heart can stand the strain!

Weather Is Key To Dove Hunting Season

Sportsmen in Monterey County who are looking forward to the opening of dove season Saturday should keep a wary eye on the weather, the Department of Fish and Game says.

With above average dove populations in the county, weather will be the big factor in determining whether hunters will have a successful opener. If there are no major changes in the present weather pattern and the birds stay where they are, hunters should have a good opener in most areas. If bad weather sets in, most of the birds will move to the south and hunters in Monterey County, where the dove population is above average, will not fare so well, according to the Department of Fish and Game.

Seeks Bay Grant

(Continued from Page One) protect Carmel Bay from any unnatural developments by private or governmental interests. It has occurred to the City of Carmel that the State may be interested in granting Carmel Bay to the City of Carmel, rather than approaching the problem through annexation.

Quite possibly the State might recognize the unique characteristics of Carmel, and also recognize that any development or sanction of development of Carmel Bay would lead to a bloody insurrection. I understand that it's possible to obtain local waters by outright grant rather than by annexation. I would appreciate the consideration of the State Lands Commission in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Fred S. Farr

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

Where's the action? The business scene, that's where! Stocks going down, retail prices going up. Bonds going down (the text books say bonds are supposed to go up when stocks go down). Interest rates going up out of sight. Full employment, skilled labor shortages, and rising retail prices probably mean more strikes. This unwieldy package of problems along with uncertainty over Viet Nam, is leading the stock market down.

Now this is not the kind of Christmas package a political party likes to present at November election time. The king-size question is: Can the administration correct any of these problems before poll time? All the democrats have to do to be sure of election is: Win the Viet Nam war, get the antipoverty campaign rolling, check the rise in retail prices, ease the money market, and thus shoot the stock market up.

It is possible that, if the administration or the natural course of events should show signs of bringing interest rates down by election time, the stock market might start a long upward trend. If not, the present rise probably will be real good to traders who take profits but not to those who just hold. Electronic stocks in particular are beautiful trading stocks these days. Many went up ten percent Tuesday.

Many economists hope that tight money will stop what they see as the faint beginnings of inflationary panic. They think a long period of tight money or high interest rates could cause both a recession and an increase in the rate of our gold loss. European bankers are convinced that the recession, which they think would be just as worldwide as the current tight money, can be avoided if the U. S. will move toward fiscal restraint—at least after elections. So the European experts think that our Washington planners can make the right moves. Let's hope they can and do.

Thought you'd like to know that my old favorite, J. C. Penney, July earnings were up. Some day maybe even the stock will go up.
